

HOPES Award Recognition Model for CTE Students

The purpose of the Hurdling Obstacles to Provide Excellence for Society (HOPES) Award recognition model is to highlight the achievement of Career and Technical Education (CTE) Special Populations students. This recognition of individual students also provides an opportunity to showcase CTE programs at your school, increase awareness of the CTE contributions to the community, and broaden the partnerships of business and industry working together for success in CTE.

Special Populations students include English language learners, pregnant/parenting teens, economically disadvantaged students, individuals with disabilities, and students pursuing nontraditional occupations.

To learn more about the model visit ICSPS at www.icsps.ilstu.edu/projects/hopes