Careers, Candle Light, and College

On January 15 and 24, 2008, the Career and Employment Services and Tech Prep offices at Danville Area Community College, along with Vermilion Vocational Education Delivery System and Vermilion Advantage, are going to host Careers, Candle Light, and College, informational candle light dinners for the parents of area high school sophomores. Research indicates that parents play a large role in their child's career choice, and because of this, information will be shared about all aspects of career planning, including non-traditional careers, labor market trends, and growth opportunities.

One activity for the evenings will be a panel of non-traditional employees from various occupations in the local community. The panels are tentatively set for 6:45 p.m. both evenings. If you are employed in a non-traditional occupation and would be willing to participate in one of the panels or need additional information, please contact Kim Kuchenbrod at Vermilion Advantage (442-6201) or Nancy Boesdorfer at DACC (443-8753).
